HOLY CROSS ACADEMY

Dear Good People of Saint Mary,

We finally got the schedule of our Holy Father's visit to the United States, we have published it opposite. It will be a time of excitement for our country, and for our area, as it seems he will be so close.

I have received many inquiries from parishioners to see if parishes will be issued tickets to the Mass on the steps of the Shrine in D.C. and if there would be a drawing for tickets as happened when Pope Benedict was here last. The reality is, as I understand it, that the general public is welcome. There will be seats in the parking lot and the green alongside the shrine and the altar will be set up on the steps facing Catholic University campus, to accommodate about 15,000 people. There are many invited guests who will have priority for seating and no additional tickets will be issued.

I would not discourage your going, but would say simply that it will be a challenge. I haven't decided yet if I will try to go, or not. There may be a slim chance that I might attend the interreligious service at the World Trade Center site in New York on Friday, but that is uncertain. If you are considering going, plan to take Metro. There is little parking on a good day, and that area of town is congested. People will probably need to arrive early for security purposes and bring what they need to be outside for hours.

Some folks have been looking into going to Philadelphia. I think that may be even more of a longshot. Hotel rooms have been sold out for a year. The crowds will be intense, the distances from the altar may make watching it on TV at home more satisfying. I was speaking with a family in Bucks County who are hosting a family from Nebraska at their home...Bucks County is not near Philadelphia.

Apparently it is the intention of the Holy Father to keep Philadelphia and the synod on the family as the main event, and his meetings with world leaders and U.S. bishops, and the canonization Mass here in D.C. as his principal other activities.

I will tell you that it was exciting to meet him a couple of weeks ago. He had only a little to say, but it was simple and powerful. You can see the Vatican video about our audience at www.romereports.com/pg161925-pope-francis-meets-with-buddhist-leaders-oethese-small-gestures-are-seeds-of-peace-en. It is hard to believe now that I was even there, I try to imagine how he does it all and still remains so holy, so authentic. He is a very special man and that is why so many are so interested in seeing him. This is our chance, when he is here.

This week we will be going to South Africa to visit the missions of our Oblate Sisters of Saint Francis DeSales. My letter next week will come to you from there, hopefully. Say a prayer for us on the trip, if you will.

Next weekend while I'm out of the country we will welcome two priests who travel and promote missions in 21 countries for children and elderly people. Fr. Thomas Malloy (an Oblate of Saint Francis DeSales priest) and Fr. Jerry Hackenmueller will preach at all the Masses about the missions and an organization that supports them, "Unbound." You will find a pull-out page inside the front cover of the bulletin next week about their work, you can also find more about them at www.unbound.org.

God bless you.

Fr. Dom

Parents: The primary religious educators of their children

The leaders of the Catholic Church have consistently taught that parents are the primary religious educators of their children.

In the Second Vatican Council's Declaration on Christian Education, it states, "Since parents have given children their life, they are bound by the most serious obligation to educate their offspring and therefore must be recognized as the primary and principal educators."

In support of parents, Saint Mary, with the assistance of many members of the parish community, has long provided religious education and formation. Religious education and formation is a complex task, especially in the secularized world of today where families are faced with new challenges and rapid changes in societies, cultures, economies and technology.

It is important that children, youth, and young adults participate continuously in religious education and formation programs of the parish. Registrations for Religious Education Classes continues during office hours. Classes resume the week of September 14-17, 2015.

We also invite teens and adults to welcome people as Greeters, help people from their cars into the church, give them a liturgy sheet and feel welcome. General training for Ushers and Greeters for the coming year will take place Saturday, August 29, at 9:30am in the church. Hope Over Heroin Program comes to Stafford County September 26-27

Father Rooney and our Sisters attended a meeting this week in Stafford with a group of church leaders who are concerned over the epidemic of addiction that has developed in our area to heroin and prescriptions drugs.

Members of the Stafford Police and the Stafford County Commonwealth Attorney's Office testified that they encounter anywhere from 10 to 20 cases of heroin or opiate addiction each week in Stafford County alone. They acknowledged that they make arrests only when they have to because they realize that the community is not doing enough in the area of outreach and prevention to help those at risk—mostly those in their teens and twenties—break the spiral of addiction.

It is thought to be even more common in Fredericksburg and Spotsylvania County.

For those who have experienced addiction to heroin, the recovery rate is only 10%. Recent articles in the local newspaper have periodically reported dozens of deaths in only a few week's time to heroin overdoses.

Those attending the meeting from local churches agreed that the problem is as much a spiritual problem as a societal problem, and it is only becoming more grave.

Hope Over Heroin is an event—a modern take on a tent revival and Billy Graham Crusade—with “Even though altar calls, prayers of deliverance and on-the-spot baptisms aren't even found in our Catholic vocabulary,” says Fr. Don, “this is someplace we need to be, we need to find where we fit in this solution of caring for those who are lost.

I'm asking all parishioners to consider where we as a parish might fit into this event: perhaps there are people who have fought this addiction in their own families, or who are involved in some form of social service or medical career who might become a part of the “city of resources” proposed by the planners of the event. No matter what we decide, the Catholic Church needs to take an active role in joining with the Christian community, providing spiritual care and being visibly present in this event.

“I have often wished that we, as a parish family, could reach out in a concrete way to the families of those who suffer from addictions. This is the time.”

a concert stage and “kindness evangelism.” It is an open invitation to all who are trapped in addiction (to whatever it might be) to come and encounter the love of Jesus and their community. They are invited to find help from the many agencies, churches, and helping groups called the “city of resources” which the local community provides and surrounds the event in pop-up tents.

Grow for Your Neighbor

Last summer, Saint Mary partnered with the Spotsylvania Farmer's Market and the "Grow for Your Neighbor" Program at the commuter lot at Rt. 3 and Gordon Road. We helped collect donated local produce and distributed it to families in need throughout the community. We committed to one Saturday a month and by the end of the summer had collected more than 1,500 pounds of fresh fruit and vegetables. This year, with access to storage and refrigeration, we will be picking up produce at the conclusion of Saturday's market and delivering the donations to the Fredericksburg Food Bank. Many of our volunteers, dedicated to their respective community dinner ministries and the SHARE Program, have stepped up to assist in this effort. Saint Mary volunteers will collect most every weekend through August 29, from 9am until noon. If you are interested in helping out, please contact Rick Caporali, rcaporali@stmaryfred.org or the parish office at 540-373-6491. We have a few slots open throughout the summer. You can also stop by the market, support our area farmers and growers, and buy a little extra for the food bank.

Pro Life reflection for July 12

"I wondered if my heart was big enough to love an adopted child as I would my biological child. There were also so many other variables to consider. ... We felt we had no control, but God reminded us again that He is always in control and that we could trust in Him." ("An Adoption Love Story," <http://bit.ly/AdoptionLoveStory>, USCCB 2014-15 Respect Life Program)

We pray for couples considering adoption that the Lord may guide their journey and grant them peace along the way.

Children's Offertory Envelopes for July

Children's Offertory Contributions for the month of July will be donated to Families of the Wounded Fund. This fund was created in 2005 to help the families of service members who come to McGuire Veterans Affairs Medical Center in Richmond with traumatic brain injuries and spinal-cord injuries from combat in Iraq and Afghanistan. Former Army

Captain William Haneke, a wounded Vietnam Veteran, and some colleagues recognized the need to assist family members who were away from home tending to their loved ones when they saw two young mothers with babies arrive from across the country with no money and barely enough gas to make the trip.

The organization gives 100 percent of all tax-deductible donations to the families to help with food, lodging, transportation, child care, diapers and long-distance calling cards during the many weeks a family is in the Richmond area, and each family currently receives $6,000. For more information, visit their website at www.fotwf.org.

Pastoral Solidarity Fund for Africa Collection: July 11-12

The Solidarity Fund for the Church in Africa supports pastoral projects that support the struggling Christians in Africa. These projects include teaching catechism classes, building new churches, providing materials for schools, and offering formation to priests and religious. This collection is a way for us to express solidarity with our African brothers and sisters and work for their spiritual and material development. Please be generous in this collection.
